Cross-Town Mail Via Texarkana

You won't believe this incredible tale about what has been happening to local mail ever since the terminal and sorting section were moved from Hope to Oaklawn Post Office on the Texas side of Texarkana May 6—but an unimpeachable source swears it is true.

Local mail addressed to another Hope citizen and deposited in the postal boxes of downtown Hope—including the box in front of the Hope Education Building (old Post Office)—is placed in a pouch, locked up, put on the mail truck and taken to Texarkana for "sorting" . . . then hauled back to Hope for delivery.

If there's a slipup anywhere along the line a letter may take three days for delivery across town.

Hope Post Office has nothing to do with this comedy of errors—it, like mail patrons, is subject to the whimsical orders of the grand postal managers who are re-arranging handling procedures of what used to be called the Railway Mail Service.

On second thought this foulup inside Hope's own boundaries ought to be consoling to the RFD patrons in our trade area who have been putting up with two to four days delay in receiving The Star since the terminal and sorting section were moved to Texarkana. Misery loves company—that, I believe.

We've heard nothing this week about how RFD points have been faring with their mail in this sixth week since the loss of the terminal. The primary elections having vanished into history we now have time to ask for an accounting by the postal managers. We'll probably publish a questionnaire asking how the service is today—and if it's still lousy we'll retain a lawyer and explore the possibility of returning the terminal and sorting section to Hope.

Postal trouble is not unusual. People were experiencing it 100 years ago. Calvin Marshall of Hope handed me a tear-sheet from Arkansas Gazette of Tuesday, June 13, which reported the following item in its Other Days column, dated June 13, 1872:

"The Daily Gazette is mailed each morning in time to go out on all the mail routes, and subscribers who do not receive it promptly should notify us of that fact at once. Subscribers at Benton, Hot Springs and on the line of the different railroads, should receive the paper the same day it is issued. If they do not, on notifying us of the fact, we will have the matter remedied."

Parking Authority ordinance to be considered by Hope city directors

At their June 27 meeting, the Hope city directors will consider an ordinance creating a Parking Authority here. At the regular city directors meeting Tuesday night, Gene Wilbur, a representative of Stephens, Inc., a Little Rock planning firm, explained that under Arkansas statutes a city can issue bonds to finance the construction of parking lots; the bonds, in turn, are financed by parking revenue. There is no hike in taxes of local residents due to the sale of the bonds, and no vote by residents is required.

Creation of a city Parking Authority is a preliminary step toward developing four downtown parking lots currently being planned in Hope's Urban Renewal project.

City Manager Garland Medders told the Star this morning that the Parking Authority is a "vehicle to use in financing the construction of parking places." There is no vote of the citizenry required to approve the sale of the bonds, he said.

The directors requested City Attorney James Pilkinton to prepare an ordinance creating such an Authority for review. In other business, the directors passed an ordinance approving the assessment of benefits to properties included in Sewer Improvement District No. 5. The district is set up to provide service to areas adjacent to the intersection of State Highway 29 and I-30.

The estimated cost of the project is $120,000 and will be funded with a bond issue scheduled over a 20-year period.

In order to market the bonds, the total benefits assessed against the properties must be 1.5 times the annual requirement of principal and interest on the bond issue. This will provide extra funds so the bonds can be retired ahead of time and the project is scheduled to pay out in less than 15 years, Medders said.

The district commissioners will now proceed with the sale of bonds and letting a contract for the work.

Hobart Shirley, chairman of the commission, said they will have to complete the work in the shortest possible time in order to serve installations that are already going up in the area, which includes three motels.

P. O. Whitley discussed with the directors the problem of a drainage ditch that flows through his property. He plans a new building on the site and was asking for some assistance in placing a drainage structure in front of the property built.

Nixon to discuss arms curbs with congressmen

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon invited 122 members of Congress to the White House today to talk about arms curbs he initiated in Moscow and to question the sometimes-elusive Henry A. Kissinger.

It was to be perhaps the largest congressional briefing ever scheduled for the White House and signified the latest administration maneuver in a determined search for Senate and House approval of "first step" arms accords.

Those invited included all members of the five key committees directly involved in considering:

The Moscow treaty to limit defensive strategic missiles, subject to approval by two-thirds of the Senate.

A companion five-year executive agreement to curb offensive missiles for which Nixon seeks a majority vote in both houses.

Nixon could only remain with the legislators long enough to make opening remarks at the 9 a.m. meeting, the White House said, because of his participation in arrival ceremonies an hour later for visiting President Luis Echeverria Alvarez of Mexico.

However, Kissinger, the President's adviser for national security affairs and a principal architect of administration approaches to Moscow and Peking, promised to be available for a lengthy question-and-answer session.

The administration's eagerness to publicize its viewpoint on the arms agreements was emphasized by the fact that a number of newsmen were invited to sit in on the entire briefing.

Inasmuch as Kissinger has steadfastly declined to testify to congressional hearings, his willingness to appear before five committees at once—but away from Capitol Hill—marked still another turn in administration lobbying efforts.

Invited to hear Nixon and Kissinger were members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the Senate and House Armed Services Committees and the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

By coincidence, none of the current frontrunners for the Democratic presidential nomination is a member of any of these panels. However, two who rank farther down the list of candidates, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, were invited by reason of their membership on the Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, respectively.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee plans to begin hearings on the arms package Monday, with Secretary of State William P. Rogers to begin presentation of the administration's case.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said Wednesday he intends to support the arms curbs all the way but opposes increased spending for new weapons systems.

Death toll of flood released

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — "We're never going to find all the bodies," says the mayor of Rapid City, which is digging out from a killer flood that left more than 200 dead.

Mayor Donald Barnett said Wednesday, "We'll probably find about 50 more bodies in the city limits and some bodies will be recovered hundreds of miles from here in the Cheyenne and Missouri rivers."

Civil Defense officials set the death toll at 204 Wednesday.

Barnett said he estimates about $100,000 in contributions has been sent to Rapid City. The money, plus $500,000 in the city budget transferred from other projects which have been set aside, will be used to help families find housing.

"There are 2,400 unusable homes in Rapid City," Barnett said. "In addition, 300 mobile homes were totally destroyed and 300 others are temporarily unusable."

Preliminary estimates of the flood damage topped $100 million.

Several thousand of Rapid City's 43,000 residents were left homeless by the raging waters of Rapid Creek which flashed through this Black Hills resort city near midnight Friday.

Hundreds remained on the missing list.

One crisis passed Wednesday when the Army Corps of Engineers announced it succeeded in reducing the stress on a partially collapsed dam at Sturgis, a community of 4,500 located 25 miles north of Rapid City.

The dam, holding back 22 million gallons of water, was pumped by the corps to reduce the water level.

Bombing suspended

SAIGON (AP) — The United States temporarily suspended bombing raids near Hanoi today as a goodwill gesture toward the Soviet Union, highly placed U.S. sources reported.

Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny is visiting the North Vietnamese capital and diplomats in Moscow believe he is trying to work out some peace arrangement.

U.S. warplanes were out over North Vietnam today but they were striking far south of Hanoi in the southern sector of North Vietnam.

Informants said it was likely that the suspension of bombing around Hanoi would last only while Podgorny was there.

In a stopover in Calcutta, Podgorny said Wednesday that "the Vietnam problem should be immediately solved."

6 U.S. soldiers killed

SAIGON (AP) — The number of U.S. troops killed in action in Vietnam dropped to six last week, but 14 Americans were reported missing, according to the U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary issued today.

Most of the missing were believed to have been aboard a C-46 transport plane that sources said disappeared in the central highlands nearly two weeks ago with 14 Americans, 11 Vietnamese and a crew of six Chinese aboard.

They were members of a clandestine operations group and the U.S. Command has never acknowledged the loss.

The total of South Vietnamese casualties and the number of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong claimed killed last week dropped last week, reflecting a general decline in the level of ground combat.

The U.S. Command reported six Vietnamese killed in action, 12 missing as a result of hostile action, three dead of nonhostile causes and 22 wounded.

South Vietnamese casualties last week were 632 killed, 2,302 wounded and 167 missing, the command said. It claimed 1,119 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed and said 1,119 were killed by government forces.

Deadly offensives now report these total casualties for last week:

Americans—45,782 killed in action, 30,128 wounded, 10,194 missing from nonhostile causes, 10,194 missing from nonhostile causes and 1,978 missing, captured and dead.

South Vietnamese—145,782 killed in action, 374,082 wounded, 374,082 missing.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—333,912 killed,

Hutto says 'keys' to bring change in behavior of offenders needed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto said Wednesday it was "absolutely imperative" that the criminal justice system find keys to ways to bring about a change in the behavior of offenders.

He said almost everyone in the system — the courts, police, correction officials, probation and parole officers — believe that rehabilitation is essential.

"The problem basically is that most of us don't know what it is, we don't know what we're talking about," Hutto told the Little Rock Sertoma Club.

The commissioner said that the usual attitude is that if those in correction would just change their way of thinking and would not be so stubborn that we could truly rehabilitate or change the behavior of the offender who comes into the criminal justice process.

This attitude implies that very little rehabilitation is taking place within the system, which Hutto said is true, and that little is being done because of a lack of willingness or desire on the part of people in general and members of the criminal justice team.

That's not really the problem, Hutto said. "The problem is when we make a statement that we must rehabilitate the offender, that's a statement most of us can agree with, but when we ask how, or what it will take to rehabilitate the offender — what we really mean by rehabilitation in the first place — it begins to get a little sticky. The facts of the matter are, we know very little about it."

Changes in behavior do occur, both in and out of prison,

Hutto said. The secret is to know where to place the offender, and to bring about certain desirable behavioral changes.

He said the answer must be found for the protection of society and for the humane reason of restoring the offender to society with a reasonable hope of succeeding as a normal citizen.

District 16 registered nurses meet

The 16 Registered Nurses met at the Hempstead Memorial Hospital June 1 for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Hazel Underwood, program chairman for June, introduced Rev. Vernon W. Koffe, speaker. He stated that there are four members of the Healing Team, the patient, the physician, the nurse, and the minister. To get the best results, all four members must work together. He also stated that a minister is medically minded and will plan his visits to the hospital to see his patients at a time when he will not be in the way of the physicians and nurses. For a pastor to be of great help on the healing team, it is important that he know something about the patient and his illness and know something about his illness. He believes that if a patient is sick and does not want to get well, it is the pastor's place to help that patient to form a will to live.

During the business session there was a discussion of prospective nurses to be entered as applicants for the "Nurse of the Year" and to the Hall of Fame awards. The last applicant sent in by District 16 was Maybelle McLemore in 1967. That year Mrs. McLemore of Hope was entered and won. Mrs. Rice, district president, expressed thanks to members of District 16 for the Memorial Gift given in memory of my father, Roy Ransom, to my favorite charity, the Heart Association.

A letter was read from Elizabeth Seale Holt. In it were her dues for 1972. This brings our total to twenty-three members. Mrs. Holt lives in Nashville.

Refreshments were served by parliamentarian Mary Turner and Mrs. Underwood, while plans were being discussed how to contact two nurses that have recently been registered and living in this district. Mrs. Barbara Gross of Hope and Miss Velda Keys of Murfreesboro. We would like for them as well as all the other RN's living in the district to join and participate in our professional association.

'Truth' factor in Hatfield's victory in 3rd

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Guy Hatfield, 65, said Wednesday that "truth" was the decisive issue in his runoff victory in Tuesday's Democratic primary for 3rd District congressman over Howard G. Cain Jr., 28, of Huntsville.

He said the people were "ready for an honest man."

"I told the people the truth," said the retired actor. "The people want the truth. They're going to get the truth from me."

With all precincts reported Wednesday, Hatfield received 32,219 votes to 47,283 for Cain in the unofficial tabulation.

Hatfield now faces Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, the Republican incumbent, in the November general election.

Hatfield said the three-term congressman was vulnerable.

He said he was a confident of victory in the general election as he was in the primaries.

Hatfield said he respected Cain's interest and the very high level of his campaign.

77 die on state highways

The Police Services Division in its Monthly Statistical Review reported that 77 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of May. According to State Police figures this is 13 more deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Capt. Milton Mosier, district commander of the Hope District for the Police Services Division, said that 12 persons died during May on Arkansas Highways in the Hope District. Counties in the district recording deaths were Howard with six deaths, Clark and Miller two each, Nevada and Sevier one each, Hempstead, Lafayette, Little River, and Pike were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said troopers in the Nine County Area investigated 98 accidents. Miller County experienced the highest accident rate during May recording 24 accidents, followed by Hempstead County with 17 accidents, Clark 15, Little River 13, Pike 10, Nevada eight, Sevier six, Howard four, and Lafayette one accident.

The report indicated that excessive speed was the leading contributing cause in the accidents, followed by failure to yield the right of way, and faulty equipment.

The 77 traffic deaths during May occurred in 59 fatal collisions.

DUMAS, Ark. (AP) — State Police said that Adaline Singleton, 53, of Dumas was killed Wednesday in a one-car accident three miles south of here on U. S. 65.

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Mother Dabbles in Labels

DEAR RAP:
Several of my good friends live in a nearby town, which has the reputation of being "lower class."

Naturally my parents put a label on this town and whenever I mention it they think of "bad" or "trouble." Because my friends come from there, they're automatically the same though they don't even smoke and would never go for dope.

I'm 15 and pick my friends carefully. These kids are really great, but my folks won't give them a chance to prove it. They say if I went down to that town I'd be labeled trash, too.

Why do people judge you by where you live, not what you are?—LABEL HATER
DEAR L.H.:

Because your parents' generation was brought up on "labels"—the rich—"snobs"; the middle class—"dull"; the poor—"shiftless."

How do you change them? It's

Attends leadership conference

Six members of the Rho Epsilon Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda at Red River Vocational-Technical School in Hope will leave on June 17, for Houston, Texas to attend the 21st annual Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference. Phi Beta Lambda is the national youth organization for post-secondary students who plan to enter careers in business or in business education.

Members of the Rho Epsilon Chapter will participate in discussion groups, business meeting, and general sessions. They will be competing in the following events: Sheila Baker, Nashville, and Pat Harris, Nashville, in the vocabulary relay; Darla Darling, Nashville, and Johnnie James, Hope, voting delegates.

The chapter has also entered best annual activities report, gold seal chapter award of merit, community service project, and most original project.

Mrs. Elsie Huckabee and J. Matt McCauley, instructors at the school, will accompany the group.

A tour of Houston's Astro-dome has also been scheduled during the Conference. Special entertainment will be provided by Ray Stevens, Bob Cummings, popular star of movies and television, will speak during a general session.

not easy. Our generation is beginning to see the person behind the label but don't expect "worrying parents" to switch overnight!

Maybe you could start a "world problems" discussion at the dinner table and narrow it down. Like, how can world disputes be settled if we can't communicate one country to another...one race to another...one town to another...one human to another. And then ask permission to have your friends over for the evening.—SUE
DEAR L.:

We're all guilty of "labeling"—the young as well as the older. You kids also fence yourselves and others off in tight little corrals called "straights," "the popular crowd," "losers," "dopers," and it's pretty hard to break out, right?

So use a little empathy and understand that your parents feel uneasy when you want to jump the fence. If they aren't complete snobs, they'll accept your friends in their home and learn to like them as people. But they may not allow you to go into what they consider a dangerous area. Not until you can convince them it isn't really "dangerous."—HELEN
DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

My mother is a "What will people think?" The doctor prescribed birth control pills for me (I'm 15) to regulate my periods. No other reason—I don't even have a steady boyfriend and everybody knows it—except some of Mom's gossiping friends.

Well, I keep the pills on the kitchen windowsill in plain sight so I'll remember them. They're in the flowered plastic holder that most everybody can recognize, if they know about B.C. pills.

Mom keeps putting them back in the cupboard, 'cuz she doesn't want her friends to know I take the Pill. Says if she starts explaining, she only makes it that much worse. So I keep forgetting and sometimes she forgets to remind me and it's a real hassle over nothing. Would you please tell my mother, Sue, there isn't anything to be ashamed of?—TERRY JEAN
DEAR TERRY:

Mothers are funny. You wouldn't believe me, no matter how much I said it. Here's a suggestion for drug companies. Why not call "regulators" by a different name? It is kinda embarrassing for the parents of a young teenager to say, "Yes, our daughter's on The Pill."—SUE
DEAR TERRY'S MOTHER:

Most women know that birth control pills are prescribed for menstrual problems, too. If your friends don't tell 'em! And if you're still worried—make a ruffled slip-cover for your daughter's pill case.—HELEN

Miss Reardon weds

Miss Susan Elaine Reardon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reardon, and Glendon Parks Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin, were united in marriage on Saturday, June 3, at the First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Joe Jones, pastor of the Washington United Methodist Church, performed the double-ring ceremony beneath an arch of greenery enhanced with a memory candle. Miss Beth Gilbert, organist, played a program of nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Susan Reardon of Beachwood, N.J., grandmother of the bride, when she sang "More" and "Because."

Seven-branched candelabra flanked the altar, and the tapers were lighted by Randy Reardon, brother of the bride, and Gary Martin, brother of the groom. Candles and greenery were also used at the end of each pew.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length gown of lace over taffeta. The high neckline and the long sleeves were edged in ruffles. Fashioned with an empire waistline, the dress had a full skirt that swept into a chapel train. The bride's veil was held in place by a coronet of lace flowers and crystal beads. Roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid was the bouquet the bride carried atop a Bible which her father had had throughout World War II.

Mrs. Tommy Burkhart was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sandy Flowers, Miss Paula McClellan, and Miss Terry Patterson of Bridge City, Tex. They were dressed identically in formal gowns of green with ruffled trim and long sleeves. They wore daisies in their hair, and each carried a burning white candle.

Gary Golden served the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Greg Gilbert, Charles Gilbert, and David Chance. The guests were ushered by Tommy Burkhart, brother-in-law of the bride, David Sanders, cousin of the bride, Carroll Beck, and Randy Bobo.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Reardon wore green with a sleeveless cape and white accessories. Mrs. Martin, mother of the groom, wore blue with lace trim and blending accessories.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Leonardo da Vinci, who painted the Mona Lisa and died more than 400 years ago, seems likely to emerge as, if not television's man of the year, at least its man of the summer.

CBS announced in March that it would present a five-part summer series dramatizing the life and works of the 15th century painter-inventor-architect-scientist. The programs were made for and originally shown on the Italian television network. CBS acquired them, frankly, because of the response to and prestige gained last summer when it broadcast "The Six Wives of Henry VIII," a six-part import from British television.

NBC, earlier this month, announced it would present an hour-long special called "Leonardo: To Know is to See" on June 20.

Since the CBS series had long been scheduled for five consecutive Sunday nights starting Aug. 13, this suggested a Leonardo competition.

"I have no doubt that the NBC hour can only help CBS," said Chandler Cowles, producer of the hour-long program.

"Our program is concerned with Leonardo's paintings, sketches, models and even his music, played from notes we found among the Da Vinci archives in Windsor Castle. The CBS programs are dramatizations and there should be more interest in his life because of our show."

Cowles' special was shot as an educational film under a grant from International Business Machines (for an unrevealed amount believed to be around $500,000) to the National Gallery in Washington. It was designed originally for use in schools and colleges.

"We were in Europe a year and shot 40,000 feet of film—about seven hours," Cowles said. "We have been going through the agony of cutting it, first to two hours, then one, since January."

Each had a white carnation corsage.

After the wedding a reception was held at Perry's Restaurant in Perrytown. Mr. and Mrs. Reardon, the bride's parents, were hosts. Daisies decorated the reception rooms, and the wedding cake was three-tiered topped with wedding bells. Miss Debbie Crank presided at the guest book.

Those in the house party included Mesdames: Gail Sinyard, Rufus Herndon, III, Leo Wenzel of Brownfield, Tex., Monroe Carr of Amarillo, Tex., and Misses Theresa Wenzel, Virginia Wenzel, Martha Sandidge, all of Brownfield, Tex., Mary Young, Shirley Sinyard, and Jolyn Herndon. Rice bags were distributed by Misses Sydnee Sinyard and Jennifer Herndon.

For travel, the bride donned a green ensemble with matching vest and pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home in Guernsey, where he is associated with General Farm Services.

Rehearsal Dinner

On Friday, June 2, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin were hosts for a rehearsal dinner at Perry's Restaurant for the Reardon-Martin wedding party. The bridal colors of blue and green were used in the decorations with candles and daisies. Covers were laid for 30. The couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants.

PGA yells 'fore!' when Dave Hill starts to talk

By FRANK LINDY

DENVER, Colo. (NEA)—

Most guys playing the pro golf tour, says Dave Hill in no uncertain tones, "seem to be afraid to voice an opinion about anything."

That has never been said about Hill, his sport's most outspoken individualist. He has strong opinions about virtually everything and will express them at the drop of a tee.

He has been fined for his remarks, and last year sued the Professional Golfers' Association and its Tournament Players Division for, among other things, "violating his constitutional right to free speech." (The suit was settled out of court with neither side publicly proclaiming victory.)

"I don't see why athletes cannot have the freedom to say what they think," Hill says. "Especially in a sport like golf where I'm my own boss and have to foot all my own bills.

I keep hearing that I'm controversial, but I don't go around looking for trouble. Most of the things I've said that got a lot of attention were in response to reporters' questions. I've never ducked a question and I don't plan to start now.

"I suppose the writers come to me because they know most of the other players aren't going to say anything. There are more than a few guys on the tour who are glad when I speak up, because then they don't have to."

A couple of Hill's more notorious remarks were directed at a U.S. Open site and British galleries, respectively. His views probably were concurred with by most of his fellow players but they remained quieter.

When asked what was lacking at the 1970 U.S. Open site, the Hazeltine course in Minnesota, Hill cracked, "Just 80 acres of corn and a few cows." The nation's headline writers went wild.

After an unhappy experience with a customarily patriotic British golf crowd, Hill was asked if he would return to Great Britain. "Only," he replied, "if I die and my casket is shipped here by mistake."

Lost in translation, unfortunately, was Hill's puckish sense of humor. He intended both remarks as much in fun as anything else.

"Nowadays everybody takes golf so deathly seriously," he says. "It's strictly business with guys like Frank Beard. They're always complaining how much work it is. This game wasn't meant to be played so seriously. It's for fun—it's not a religion."

"I get as fed up with it as anybody else who does something to excess. I can get to where I hate tournament golf, but I still love to come home to Denver and play with hacker friends. It's still only a game, you know."

Because he gets so tense if he plays the tour for long stretches, Hill is cutting down his schedule. He has played in only about half the tournaments and has come back from a slump by winning one title and earning more than $65,000 already.

"In the past I've stayed out here and beaten my head against the wall and lost 35 pounds in a year," says Hill, who weighs only 155 top weight with a couple of clubs under his arm. "It isn't worth it. Now I get away and forget about it and relax. I pick my spots."

On the course—not when he thinks something needs saying.

ABA officials will discuss merger

W H I T E SULPHUR

SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—What could be a momentous meeting of the National Basketball Association's board of governors was set for today, with reports circulating about a possible "consolidation" of the NBA and American Basketball Association.

While NBA Commissioner

Walter Kennedy said Wednesday he didn't think there would be any discussion of the ABA at the governors' two-day meetings, he did emphasize that "there'll certainly be talk about a merger."

How he could manage to separate the two was being questioned by some observers. Reportedly, one step in favor of a merger was solved Tuesday night when the ABA dropped its two weakest franchises, Pittsburgh and the Floridians, and announced it would operate with its nine strongest teams next season.

There were, however, some roadblocks that could continue to stall the merger.

One is that the merger bill has been tied up in a Senate anti-trust subcommittee since last September. The chairman of the subcommittee, Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., has continually voiced his opposition to the bill.

The House is also preparing to tackle the matter. On Wednesday, the chairman of the House judiciary subcommittee, Rep. Emmanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said his subcommittee would begin hearings during the week of July 24. The bill was introduced by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex.

A second stumbling block to a merger is the NBA Players Association.

The organization, headed by Oscar Robertson of the Milwaukee Bucks, has stated its opposition to a merger, mainly because it seeks elimination of the option clause in the players' contracts.

"I think it's possible to get a merger legislation through Congress despite the player association's opposition," said Kennedy.

The commissioner noted, however, "that it would be impossible for a merger to be completed before the start of the 1972-73 season." But he indicated that it might be resolved prior to the draft of college players next spring.

The governors were scheduled to hear a report today from merger committee chairman Abe Pollin of the Baltimore Bullets.

Also on the agenda for the two-day session were discussions on possible action against the NBA players who participated in the May all-star game against the ABA, the sale of the Boston Celtics, approval of the announced sale of the Chicago Bulls to Marvin Fishman for a reported $4 million plus scheduling and rule changes.

Hope defeats Hot Springs

The Hope American Legion traveled to Hot Springs Tuesday and returned with a 7-3 victory, running their season record to 10-2.

Hope started early scoring three runs in the second inning, on a walk to Powers, a single by Rowland, and a two-run double by Perry Henley. Henley scored on a line drive by Jim Arrington.

Hot Springs then rallied for one run in the second, and two runs to tie the score on a home run by Hester.

Hope started the fifth inning on a walk to Paul Young. Tim White doubled to score Young. Jimmy Fincher singled to left. Bill Rowland, pitcher, hit a 3-2 pitch over the left field fence for the final runs. The home run was Rowland's second of the year.

Leading Hope in hitting was Tim White with two doubles and a single. Henley also hit a double.

Bill Rowland (3-0) was the winning pitcher giving up only two hits, while walking three and striking out six.

The Legion's next game will be Saturday night at 7:00 at Legion Field Hope against Fordyce.

Scheduled starting pitcher for Saturday's game is Mike Downs, whose record is three wins and one loss.

GRABBY

Tom Washington of Pittsburgh set the ABA play-off record for most rebounds in one game when he snatched 35 in a 1968 contest against Minnesota.

Sun Devils move closer to title

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—

Pitching-rich Arizona State stands one victory away from denying Southern California an unprecedented third straight NCAA World Series baseball title.

The top-ranked Sun Devils, 64-4, flashed another brilliant mound performance Wednesday night in ousting No. 6 Temple 1-0, while Southern Cal stayed alive by nipping Texas 4-3 in 10 innings.

"We'll go with our best; we want to end it, although there is a tomorrow," mused Arizona State Coach Jim Brock of the re-meeting with Southern California.

Arizona State, which won titles here in 1965, 1967 and 1969, beat USC 3-0 Sunday night behind a shutout pitching performance by Jim Crawford.

An Arizona State victory tonight would end the tournament which started with a field of eight last Friday

All-America senior right-hander Craig Swan (16-1) allowed Temple two singles, struck out 12 and did not walk a man in pitching the Sun Devils 24th shutout of the season and third straight of the tournament.

"We didn't fall apart after Texas took the lead," noted USC Coach Rod Dedeaux after the ousting of No. 5 Long Horns.

Daryl Arenstein's single drove home the winning run against Texas (40-9). It was his second game-winning hit of the double-elimination series.

Greg Widman and Russ McQueen, 8-3, combined for a four-hitter for USC. Sophomore McQueen was making his third series appearance.

An unearned run let No. 3 Southern Cal 48-13-1 tie the game in the seventh and Tim Steele drilled a one-out double to set up the winning run in the 10th.

Mecom agrees to dispose of holdings

NEW YORK (AP)—National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle says John Mecom Jr. is clean, but he's not so sure about some real estate transactions in which the president of the New Orleans Saints was involved.

On Wednesday, Rozelle cleared Mecom of any alleged underworld associations. But he added that Mecom, also the principal owner of the Saints, had agreed to divest himself of his holdings in the two deals.

Rozelle's action followed an investigation by the NFL of May 3 accusations by Aaron Cohn, director of the New Orleans Crime Commission, who told Congress' House Select Committee on Organized Crime that Mecom was associating with people who had underworld connections, a statement which, Rozelle said, "evoked banner headlines."

The NFL probe, the commissioner said, "shows participation by Mr. Mecom in both of the real estate transactions cited ... but no underworld association of Mr. Mecom in these matters."

The deals, Rozelle said, involved real estate investments of $2,000 and $26,000 with one of them involving four investors, the other with six.

The commissioner's statement acknowledged that one of the individuals involved "has an Internal Revenue Service conviction on a gambling charge, but it was not Mr. Mecom who brought this individual into the transactions and the individual is by no means an associate of the Saints' owner."

Receives degree—Simmons
S. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.M. Smith, a member of the 1972 graduating class of the Univ. of Ark., Fayetteville, was the recipient of the BA degree at commencement exercises in May. Compiling a grade point average of over 3.00, he was selected for membership in Pi Sigma Alpha and inducted into Epsilon Theta Chapter. Simmons, a 1969 graduate of Hope High School, served as parliamentarian of the Black Americans for Democracy, library worker and part time supervisor. He has earned additional hours toward the masters degree and is currently working on a assignment with the city of Texarkana. He will return to the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville this fall.

Lolich pitches 3-2 victory

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich can't wait until his next start. Sparky Lyle can.

"I've only missed one start in 10 years and that was in 1970 because my back was killing me," Lolich said after pitching Detroit to a 3-2 victory over Minnesota Wednesday night and joining Cleveland's Gaylord Perry and Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox as the only 10-game winners in the major leagues.

"My job is to pitch every four days. That's what I get paid for. That's what the other guys on the club are counting on me to do."

Lyle's job is to preserve other people's victories and he did it to perfection by retiring eight consecutive Chicago batters and saving the New York Yankees' 3-0 triumph over the White Sox for starter Mike Kekich.

"When you've got Sparky Lyle in the bullpen, there's not much sense in gambling," said manager Ralph Houk after his relief ace notched his 12th save of the season, matching the total for the entire Yankee bullpen in 1971. "There's no way he'll ever be a starter with this club."

The Tigers' victory kept them tied for first place in the American League East with the Baltimore Orioles, who nipped Oakland 2-1 in 10 innings. Elsewhere, California downed Cleveland 4-3, Boston drubbed Kansas City 11-3 and Texas whipped Milwaukee 7-1.

National League scores: New York Mets 8, Atlanta 3; San Francisco 3, Pittsburgh 1; Chicago Cubs 12, San Diego 9; Cincinnati 2, Philadelphia 1; Houston 5, Montreal 4; Los Angeles and St. Louis were rained out.

Lolich had to overcome a touch of the flu and Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer, a 442-foot smash in the fourth inning. It was the Minnesota slugger's 522nd career homer, moving him past Ted Williams into sixth place among all-time home run hitters.

But Lolich finished with a five-hitter and nine strikeouts. He also scored the tying run in the fifth after blooping a single, taking second on a walk and barreling home on Gates Brown's single.

Bobby Grich tagged Oakland's Catfish Hunter for a leadoff homer in the 10th inning, enabling the Orioles to win their seventh consecutive game—all complete games, this one a four-hitter by Dave McNally—and keep pace with the Tigers.

Baltimore scored an unearned run in the third on singles by Dave Johnson and Grich and an error by Hunter on a potential inning-ending double play ball. The A's tied it in the fourth on Joe Rudi's double and singles by Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando.

Although the A's dropped their fourth in a row, they maintained their two-game lead over Chicago in the AL West.

Bobby Grich tagged Oakland's Catfish Hunter for a leadoff homer in the 10th inning, enabling the Orioles to win their seventh consecutive game—all complete games, this one a four-hitter by Dave McNally—and keep pace with the Tigers.

Baltimore scored an unearned run in the third on singles by Dave Johnson and Grich and an error by Hunter on a potential inning-ending double play ball. The A's tied it in the fourth on Joe Rudi's double and singles by Reggie Jackson and Sal Bando.

Although the A's dropped their fourth in a row, they maintained their two-game lead over Chicago in the AL West.

The Yankees, who had been shut out twice in a row and three times in their last four starts, reversed the tables on the White Sox as Kekich and Lyle combined for a four-hitter and Johnny Callison and Bobby Murcer homered off Tom Bradley.

Lyle came on with one out in the seventh after Rick Reichardt doubled and Bill Melton walked. The Sox never got another baserunner.

California's Nolan Ryan, a last-minute starter when Clyde Wright came up with a sore shoulder, yielded two Cleveland runs in the first on three walks and two hits but then settled down until Don Rose bailed him out of a bases-loaded, one-out jam in the eighth.

The Angels got all their runs in the last of the first after Alex Johnson dropped Sandy Alomar's two-out fly ball. With two out, Bob Oliver homered off Milt Wilcox, Ken McMullen singled and Lee Stanton homered.

After losing 10 straight home games to Kansas City, the Red Sox turned on the Royals with a 13-hit attack that included home runs by Danny Cater and Carlton Fisk. Boston scored four times in each of the first two innings and John Curtis blanked the Royals until Richie Scheinblum and Jerry May homered in the eighth.

Tom Grieve's two-run double highlighted a six-run fourth inning that lifted Texas over Milwaukee. Johnny Briggs' homer in the top of the fourth gave the Brewers a 1-0 lead but the Rangers erupted after Milwaukee's Ken Brett retired the first 10 batters.

Hope Auto loses to Sheriffs

Due to rain Tuesday night, play was limited to the first game which caught the Sheriffs beating Hope Auto 7-6 causing them to suffer their first loss of this season.

Willis Williams was the pitcher for the Sheriffs. Hope Auto used Scott Rowland, Tommy Allen, and Rufus Herndon on the mound.

Leading all hitters for the winners were Willis Williams, Duane Mayfield, and Alan Bohanan all getting one hit apiece. Tommy Allen, Jim Henley, Mike Metzger, and Blake Tolleson, all got one hit for Hope Auto.

The next games will be played Monday, June 26, putting James Mtr. Co. against Barry's and at 8:00 Sheriffs will play Greening-Ellis.

Fans don't turn backs on baseball

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When baseball's major league players conducted their unprecedented strike at the start of the season, there was concern that fans would turn their backs on the national pastime.

Well, they haven't. In fact, attendance is up a bit, according to a survey by Harry Simmons, an administrative assistant to Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The results, released Wednesday, of the survey covering attendance through the first nine weeks of the season offer two basic conclusions: the fans are still coming out to the ballpark but attendance lost by the strike will hurt the owners.

The survey compares playing dates through June 11 of this season with the corresponding number of dates in 1971, eliminating the attendance lost during the strike, which wiped out 84 games.

For those parallel periods, major league attendance increased by 126,867—1.6 percent—meaning more fans have seen games in person this year since the strike ended than went to the same span of games last year.

But overall attendance has been hard hit by the strike, the survey shows. Because of the lost playing dates, 1,419,240 fewer fans have been to a game this year.

Even if the 1.6 percent increase holds for the rest of the season, baseball can expect to have a drop of about 1.2 million for the entire year.

'Super Mex' is back

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Wheezing, coughing Lee Trevino is so pumped up with pills he feels light enough to walk on water. "I got so much antibiotics in me, it makes you want to smile after a double bogey," he says.

If Super Mex were a horse instead of a golfer defending the U.S. open title, he might be disqualified after a saliva test.

Big Jack Nicklaus, the overwhelming tournament favorite, is so calm and relaxed his attitude borders on arrogance. "I'm much more confident of my game and swing than I was at the Masters," he confides. "I have my game just about where I want it."

And standing there in the wings is Gary Player, the meticulous, gutty little giant from South Africa, rated by many of the more knowledgeable competitors as possibly the man to beat for the 72nd U.S. Open starting today.

"I never go into a tournament thinking Jack Nicklaus can beat me," Player said resolutely. "I have beaten him in too many matches head to head—6 and 4 and 6 and 5 in two World Match Play Championships in England."

The South African, without specifying, dropped what might be construed as a slight dig at the exhaustive pre-tournament preparations of his two long time rivals, Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer.

"It's silly to come to a tournament a week in advance," he said. "All you do is build up tensions and staleness. Two practice rounds are enough for anybody."

Tensions were building and nerves were wearing thin—in every case except that of Nicklaus and Trevino—as 150 of the world's finest golfers prepared for the 7:30 a.m., EDT, first round teeoff in the most prestigious of the big pro title events.

The Pebble Beach course, scene of familiar Bing Crosby events every January, is a relatively short but treacherous layout that winds along the rocky beaches of Carmel Bay and the Pacific Ocean. On a clear day, giant whales may be seen frolicking in the foamy surf.

The distance is 6,812 yards and par is 36-36—72. Nicklaus has predicted that the winning score could range from 275 to 300 depending on the capriciousness of the weather. Frequently heavy fog pours in from off the ocean and in the afternoon winds whip up gusts of 20 and 30 miles an hour.

But it's not the wind that scares the golfers most. It's the sun, baking the small, undulating greens to a concrete hardness.

Pitches are inclined to bounce six feet high and then scamper into an adjoining bunker with its loose beach sand or onto one of the rocky beaches below where balls have been known to be washed out to sea before the player can reach them.

71. Cars Or Trucks

The service system of tomorrow. Built into every new Volkswagen today.

Imagine owning a car that can tell you how it feels. When Volkswagen dealerships start to receive their computers later this year, you'll be able to drive in, have your 1972 Volkswagen plugged into the computer, and get it straight from your car what's right or wrong. How does it work?

Every 1972 Volkswagen has a network of sensors and check points built into critical areas like the engine and electrical system.

These sensors work like nerves. When they're attached to the computer by a simple socket in the back of the car, the sensors relay the condition of vital areas.

In the time it takes a mechanic to collect his tools the computer checks things like front wheel alignment, engine compression, and battery voltage.

And gives you the results in plain English. The computer will be at Volkswagen dealers starting later this year, so you can come in and let our brain take the load off yours.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Of the 15 top-selling U.S. magazines eight are women's magazines; they have a total circulation of about 52 million. "Godey's Lady's Book," first appearing in 1837, was the model for today's home magazines, setting trends in fashions, morals and etiquette. The World Almanac notes. It was staffed mostly by women and reached a monthly circulation of 150,000 by 1860.

Did you know the Black Death was back? One of the greatest scourges in the history of mankind... the Bubonic plague... has made a reappearance. Its sudden return appears to be related to the back-to-nature movement and particularly in the so-called hippie communes. Dr. Darwin L. Palmer in Albuquerque, N.M., has been studying "Black Death" in the Southwest. In a 1970 outbreak near Albuquerque there were 13 cases, the largest outbreak of the plague since 1924. The African Methodist Episcopal Church, known generally as (A.M.E.) is the oldest and largest black independently incorporated body in the United States.

The origin and development of this religious organization almost parallels the origin and development of our nation in its life of independence. Mrs. Esther Hicks, of 515 South Hazel Street here in Hope was born and reared in the Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, the daughter of Mrs. Samantha Swift and the late Dr. J. L. Swift. She has served her church in many capacities among which, church pianist and organist dominate.

The General Conference, which is an international judicial and legislative religious association will convene in Dallas, Texas June 21st through July 2nd. At this conference Mrs. Hicks, who is a lay delegate and who led the election on the 1st ballot in the West Conference of the 12th Episcopal District (Arkansas and Oklahoma) is one of the highest ranking persons in the conference. Besides serving as lay conference president, Mrs. Hicks will be executive procurator of the Episcopal Diocese and will officiate on the committees of Credentials, Rules, Episcopacy and Judiciary.

Mrs. Hicks is presently church musician and a steward in Bethel. She will be accompanied to the conference by her pastor, Dr. W. G. Wynn who is a clergyman delegate.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Police have charged a man with grand larceny in the theft of an abandoned two-car garage that was going to be demolished to make way for an expressway.

Harold Mackie, 31, of Kent was arrested Tuesday night in suburban Macedon, state police said Wednesday.

Troopers said Mackie allegedly cut up the wooden structure, loaded it on a truck and hauled it away, apparently without arousing the interest of residents of the neighborhood where the garage was located.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The University of Akron will offer a course this summer in drag racing.

The university announced Wednesday that the noncredit course will include instruction in machine work, custom painting and speed performance. It will be taught by local specialists.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — That nude photo of actor Burt Reynolds was posted on a wall by an enlisted Wave since sailors have had pinups for years. But the Navy reaction was as untypical as the male undraping.

The pinup, clipped from a recent issue of Cosmopolitan magazine, was ordered taken down from an office wall at the San Diego 32nd Street naval station Wednesday.

A small group of Waves complained that the action was unfair.

"I don't know why this is being questioned," a base spokesman responded. "I don't see pinups in office spaces that are open to the public."

Harry W. Shiver is club's guest speaker

Harry W. Shiver was the guest speaker at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting.

Kiwanian Hobart Shirley arranged the program and introduced Wm. J. Glascock, executive secretary and treasurer of the Scottish Rite Body of Little Rock, who in turn presented Mr. Shiver.

In his presentation Glascock stated that Shiver had achieved the highest honor that may be conferred upon a Mason, the 33rd Degree, an honor given in recognition of service to his organization and to mankind.

Shiver's talk was entitled "A Brief History of Freemasonry and of Whitfield Lodge 239."

"Actually, Freemasonry precedes written history," said Shiver, and then he reviewed something of the movement throughout early Europe and into the modern world. From the earliest history of this country there was Freemasonry. The majority of the early American patriots were Masons.

Concerning Whitfield Masonic Lodge 239, Shiver stated that it was organized some 2½ years before the Cairo and Fulton, now Missouri Pacific railroad reached Hope, the charter being dated November 22, 1871.

The first meeting hall was located about 2½ miles North of Hope on the DeAnn road. Subsequent moves were to the corner of Front and Elm Streets, to 115 East Second, to 117 West Second, and to 112 South Elm Street. A plan to build a lodge hall on the Northeast corner of Third and Walnut Streets was abandoned due to lack of funds, and the property was sold with the proceeds being invested in War Savings Stamps.

In 1920 the late Dr. G.E. Cannon built a hospital on Main Street just off Third. In 1965 when Memorial Hospital opened, the Cannon property became available to Whitfield Lodge. The purchase was made, the building was remodeled, the interior was redesigned, and the building was completely redecorated. Today it serves quite adequately as the home of Whitfield Masonic Lodge 239, whose 330 members are justly proud of their home and the fact that it and the property just North of their building, also purchased, are completely free of debt.

Contrary to what some may think, Freemasonry is not a secret society, but a society with secrets. Its members, who are not solicited but are individuals having sought membership, are banded together in a brotherhood dedicated to the highest moral principles, to a patriotism exceeding that of the average citizen, to a respect for the rights of the individual, and to an abiding faith in the Almighty God.

In closing Shiver gave a resume of the life of Albert Pike, a Mason for whom the Masonic Temple in Little Rock is named.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Roy Anderson, Webb Laseter, H.M. Olsen, all of Hope, Ronnie and Jay Nations of Kingsport, Tennessee, son-in-law and grandson respectively of Shiver, and Mrs. Wm. J. Glascock of Little Rock.

Boyling it down

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — What or where is limbo?

We all know pretty well when we're in either heaven or hell. But what is it like to be in limbo?

In Roman Catholic theology, limbo is a place where no one is actually punished, but neither does anyone see the beatific vision, a denial which poets feel can be cruellest of all punishments. Limbo also is where the souls of unborn children dwell, and the souls of those who die before baptism.

But to most of us limbo is hard to pin down in our daily lives. It is indefinite and vague, a sensation of being lost and lonely and isolated.

We are in limbo, for example, when we are out on a limb in a situation with no one aware of our plight or in any hurry to aid us.

Here are some other possible limbos, although some bear a strong resemblance to purgatory or hell:

In earliest infancy, limbo is where you are when mother isn't cuddling you in her arms.

Limbo is sitting in a corner with a dunce cap on for being unable to spell cat in the first grade.

Limbo is where you live later mother-in-law puts you when in life after you scrape and save to visit Las Vegas only to drop your gambling capital there on your first big casino bet.

Limbo is being an orphan and looking through a window to watch five children in a happy home eating Thanksgiving dinner with their parents.

Limbo is where a soldier feels he is when he reads a "Dear John" letter from his sweetheart during a lull in combat.

Limbo is the time between the time you wrote your rent check and the time when your paycheck gets to the bank to cover it.

Limbo is where your visiting she announces you have given her such a nice time she has decided to stay another two weeks.

Limbo is where the boss puts you when he asks if you think it is fair for him to plunge the firm deeper into the red by giving the merit raise you want.

Limbo is insomnia in a double feather bed.

And limbo is where a columnist finds himself when he sits down to write a column on limbo. And dear reader, if you're still with me, look around quick. You're in limbo too.

The directors also approved an agreement of understanding between the city and the State Highway Department for a complete study of traffic problems in Hope. The agreement provides that the city and the department cooperate on a federally-assisted program known as Traffic Operations Program for Increasing Capacity and Safety (TOPICS). Several types of traffic aid is eligible for federal assistance under this program but the study is a requirement which must be met before application for aid is considered, Medders said.

"To finesse or not to finesse, that is the question" soliloquized Hamlet. "Verily, Polonius had said that a finesse is a 50 per cent chance while a suit will break 3-3 but 36 per cent of the time."

Then Hamlet went right up with dummy's ace of spades. His bidding had shown three aces so it was evident that Guildenstern, sitting West, would not lead away from a king at trick one. Hence the finesse would be hopeless.

The ace play would win if clubs broke 3-3 or if the king of spades was in the same hand that held the lone club.

He played a couple of rounds of trumps, cashed his ace and king of diamonds and ran the rest of the trumps. The first discard from dummy was the queen of spades, the second the last diamond.

Then he led a club to the king and a second club back to his ace. He had seen West discard three spades and finally the queen and 10 of diamonds on the trumps. It looked very much as if West had started with four clubs.

This knowledge might not do him any good but had dropped the mine and in on the first two clubs. This set up a tinnessing situation and while Hamlet had never heard of the principle of tinnessed choice, he still tinnessed against the jack of clubs and brought the slat home.
